

Meet Zimmer

If you love getting cozy by the campfire with your pals, don't forget to invite Zimmer! He's the Zee Zee who's always got a fresh stack of firewood and a story to tell. Zimmer's also an expert zongo player—that's the Planet Z version of the bongo—so just name a tune and he'll bang out a beat that will let you sing along in style.

Meet Tizmo

Tizmo is into gaming—video games, card games, tic tac toe—if you can play it, Tizmo plays it (and probably has a high score on it). He's the kind of Zee Zee that you want to have over for game night, you just don't want him on the opposing team.

Meet Zazu

Zazu craves knowledge like she craves applesauce—which is a lot! Zazu is fascinated with learning how the worlds work, and you'll often find her sitting in her favorite squashy purple chair in the library pouring through Encyclozeedias, trying to understand Einstein's theories or teaching herself a new language. Oh, and if you're playing a trivia game, you might want to ask Zazu to be on your team.

Meet Winzu

Winzu has a very, very rare gift. No, it's not being able to use her hairdo to fly (although that is pretty cool); it's that she gives the best advice. Next time you find yourself in need of a solid opinion, look for the little Zee Zee helicoptering around the jungle gym.
