

Red Delicious Apple

- More than 2,500 types of apples are grown in the United States and red delicious is the second most popular.
- Red delicious apple are a member of the rose family
- They are bright red, mildly sweet with just a little bit of sourness.
- You can enjoy Red Delicious as a fresh snack, but you can also have it as a juice, applesauce or even in salads.
- Apples have seed pockets called carpels the number of seeds in each apple depends on the apple and the health of the plan.
- They can float because they are made up of 25% air

Click here to see information about Red Delicious Apples

