

Ya Pear

- The Ya Pear is also known as the Yali Pear, Chinese White Pear, and Nashi Pear.
- They have a pale yellow/beige thin skin with brown speckles and juicy, white flesh on the inside.
- They are crisp, sweet and taste like a cross between a rose and a pineapple.
- Ya Pears are more round like an apple, and do not soften when ripe so they are firm when you eat them.
- Ya Pears are grown in China. In Chinese, ya means “duck” so they are “duck pears”.
