

The California Department of Education Nutrition Services Division in partnership with the California Department of Social Services want to take this opportunity to promote access to Cal Fresh Food benefits. CalFresh Food helps people from low-income families buy the nutritious food they need for good health. Recipients can buy food at any grocery store or farmers market that accepts Electronic Benefit Transfer. Attached is a flyer than can be downloaded to post on your website or printed to be handed out to families. In addition, the following language can be used in your flyers or newsletters.

SELECT: GetCalFresh.org is an on-line CalFresh application tool that takes 10 minutes to available in English, Spanish, and Chinese.
