

How Can I Check the Balance of My Student's Meal Account?

Parents are responsible for monitoring their student's meal account to ensure there are adequate funds available. We provide a free online service for you to monitor your student's meal account, check balances, and set-up e-mail reminders by setting up an account at <https://www.schoolpay.com/>

There is no fee for these services and you do not need to pay online to take advantage of them. There is a small fee if you choose to make online payments.

You will need your student's 9-digit school ID for all online services which can be obtained from your school office. You may also contact the cafeteria manager of the school your student attends for account information.

This institution is an equal opportunity provider.
